NHS Pensions - Consideration of entitlement to ill health retirement benefits (AW33E)

Important: Please complete this form in BLACK INK

PART A	To be completed by the employing authority
PART B	To be completed by the member
PART C	To be completed by the occupational health doctor - where this is not possible, the report can be completed by your GP / specialist Please see guidance notes

Guidance for members

The NHS Pension Scheme provides two levels of ill health retirement benefits, which are dependent on the severity of your condition and the likelihood of you being able to work again.

To qualify for ill health retirement benefits you must:

- have at least two years' qualifying membership
- not have attained normal pension age
- retire from pensionable employment because of illness or injury, and
- be permanently incapable of efficiently carrying out the duties of your employment because of illness or injury - Tier 1 pension, or
- be permanently incapable of engaging in regular employment of like duration because of the illness or injury - Tier 2 pension .

Tier 1 pension

If you are assessed as being permanently incapable of carrying out the duties of your own job you will be entitled to the early payment of the retirement benefits you have earned to date without any reduction for the early payment.

Tier 2 pension

If you are assessed as being permanently incapable of regular employment of like duration and you are a member of the 1995/2008 section of the NHS Pension Scheme you will be entitled to the retirement benefits you have earned to date enhanced by two thirds of your prospective membership up to reaching the Scheme's normal pension age.

If you are a member of the 2015 Scheme you will be entitled to benefits you have earned to date plus a pro rata enhancement based on half your prospective pension to the Scheme's Normal Pension Age. This is called the Tier 2 addition

Guidance for members who have opted out of the NHS Pension Scheme

To qualify for ill health retirement benefits you must:

- have at least two years' qualifying membership
- not have reached normal pension age
- retire from employment because of illness or injury, and

- have a physical or mental infirmity that makes you permanently incapable of efficiently carrying out the duties of your NHS job.

If you are assessed as being permanently incapable of carrying out the duties of your own job you will be entitled to the early payment of the retirement benefits you have earned to date without any reduction for the early payment.

For the purpose of ill health retirement benefits the following expressions mean:

- Scheme's normal pension age: age 60 years in the 1995 Section, age 65 in the 2008 Section and State Pension Age, or age 65 if this is higher, for members of the 2015 Scheme.
- Retires from pensionable employment: your employment must be terminated on grounds of ill health.
- Permanently incapable: through your medical condition, subject to appropriate medical treatment, you will not be able to return to NHS work before the Scheme's normal pension age.
- Efficiently discharging the duties: producing the result required efficiently.
- Your employment for Tier 1 pension: the post or posts to which your contract of employment relates.
- Regular employment for Tier 2 pension: in addition to being permanently incapable of your own NHS job, you must be permanently incapable of regular employment in the general field of employment of like duration to your NHS job, that is either whole time or part time.
- Appropriate medical treatment: Medical treatment that would be normal for the condition(s).

This will require the submission of a report on your health which will be provided by your employer's occupational health doctor at Part C of this form. Our medical advisers may also take account of information obtained from your own general practitioner or consultant medical specialist. However, any costs or fees for providing these reports are your responsibility.

Our medical advisers will make a recommendation based on the evidence provided in this application and will not routinely seek further medical evidence.

When completed, this application form must be sent by the occupational health doctor to NHS Pensions.

Please be aware that paper applications and any associated medical evidence enclosures will be confidentially destroyed shortly after the documents have been digitally scanned. Whilst we do require submission of an original application, we are happy to consider copies of any additional medical evidence enclosures where you wish to retain the original documents.

If you qualify for ill health pension benefits you must complete the retirement benefits claim form (AW8) to request payment of these benefits.

You could be subject to a tax charge if there is a large increase in your NHS pension benefits in the tax year your ill health benefits are paid. For more information visit www.nhsbsa.nhs.uk/nhs-pensions and www.hmrc.gov.uk/pensionsschemes. You may wish to consider taking tax advice if you think you may be affected.

Important note:

If you have deferred pension benefits in either the 1995/2008 Section or the 2015 Scheme you may need to make separate applications for consideration of entitlement to benefits. Further information is available on our website at: www.nhsbsa.nhs.uk/nhs-pensions

Members with deferred pension benefits need to make their application using form AW240 (available on our website) as this form (AW33E) will be used for the consideration of entitlement to ill health pension benefits for your non deferred membership only.

Part B - To be completed by the member

Please read the guidance about release of medical information and annual allowance before completing this section, then sign and date the declaration and consent on the next page.
Failure to provide information or consent to the release of information will result in your application being delayed or rejected.

NHS Pensions needs a report from *your doctor at Part C of this form, so that it can consider your application for ill health retirement benefits. (*This means any doctor who has treated you, or cared for you, or who has been involved in diagnosing your condition, and includes an occupational health doctor.)

Access to Medical Reports Act 1988

Medical reports your doctor prepares for NHS Pensions are subject to the 'Access to Medical Reports Act 1988'. Under that Act you can either:

- allow your doctor to send it straight to NHS Pensions without you seeing it first, or
- ask to see the report before they send it to NHS Pensions, or
- ask the doctor not to send the report to NHS Pensions at all.

Reports written by a doctor who has not been involved in your treatment, care or diagnosis or medical records that already exist, are NOT subject to the Access to Medical Reports Act 1988.

If you decide that a report requested by NHS Pensions can come straight to us without you seeing it first, you can still ask to see it at any time up to six months after we receive it.

The 'consent' you sign will tell your doctor whether you wish to see any report they prepare before they send it to NHS Pensions. If you decide you want to see the report before your doctor sends it, you have 21 days from when NHS Pensions asks for the report to let your doctor know that you wish to see it. You can view the report for free, but your doctor is entitled to charge you a reasonable fee if you want a copy for yourself. Your doctor can withhold all or part of the report from you. But, if they do so for professional medical reasons, they must tell you that they are doing so.

If you think that the report your doctor has prepared is misleading or incorrect in any way, you can ask them in writing to amend it. Your doctor can refuse to amend the report, but if they do they will invite you to send a letter with your comments that they can attach to the report, before they send it to NHS Pensions.

Release of medical information and examination by an independent doctor

In order to clarify or confirm certain aspects of your medical condition NHS Pensions may sometimes need to ask for other medical, or relevant information (e.g. from your GP, specialist or employer). We may also need you to be examined by an independent doctor. So that they understand what you are claiming for we might need to pass any or all of the reports and medical or relevant information to them. NHS Pensions will also need to pass all the information it gathers to its medical advisers.

If you do not agree to the release of reports or other information about your medical condition, NHS Pensions may be unable to consider your application for benefits.

Annual allowance

The annual allowance is the amount of pension savings you can build up and also gain tax relief on each year. It covers pension savings in all your pension arrangements, with the exception of the State Pension or a dependant benefit, and if, when they are added together, they exceed the annual allowance you may have to pay an annual allowance charge.

You are more likely to be affected by an annual allowance charge if your application for ill health retirement is accepted and the benefits you receive are increased. This normally happens if you are awarded Tier 1 and you are purchasing additional benefits or you are awarded a Tier 2 pension.

HMRC allow you to carry forward any unused annual allowance from the previous three tax years to the current tax year. The amount of any unused annual allowance is added to the current tax year's annual allowance to give you a higher annual allowance amount.

You may wish to consider taking tax advice if you think you may be affected. More information about annual allowance is available on the website at: www.nhsbsa.nhs.uk/nhs-pensions and www.hmrc.gov.uk/pensionsschemes.

Severe ill health condition – HMRC Test

The information below is only relevant if:

1. You are accepted for Tier 2 ill Health retirement benefits; and
2. The growth in your NHS pension benefits exceed the annual allowance.

Meeting HMRC's severe ill health condition will exempt you from an annual allowance charge in the tax year the condition is met. You may still have an annual allowance charge in relation to another tax year if the annual allowance is exceeded and you do not have enough unused annual allowance to carry forward.

The conditions for having a severe ill health condition are as follows:

- we receive evidence from a registered medical practitioner that confirms you are suffering from ill health which makes you unlikely to be able to undertake any gainful work in any capacity other than to an insignificant extent before reaching State Pension Age; OR
- an application to commute ill health retirement benefits has been accepted and you meet HMRC's requirements for a serious ill health lump sum (this is normally where the NHS Pensions medical advisers confirm you have less than 12 months to live).

If you are accepted for Tier 2 and you have given your permission, NHS Pensions will normally check whether:

- the growth in your NHS benefits exceeds the annual allowance in a tax year; and
- you meet HMRC's conditions for severe ill health in that tax year.

This service is provided free of charge to assist you in establishing your tax position.
